This is one of five seminars given by the speaker relating to Hong Kong Notarial Practice.

The notary profession is a survival of a civil law notion in the common law. It was said that Notaries Public might be regarded as the third arm of a legal profession, alongside solicitors and barristers. The activity of Notaries Public is unique. The responsibility is to the transaction itself. They assure legal certainty and truth which are essential to society.

It was said "A Notary should ask what value he is adding to the document and whether he is fulfilling his duties as a Notary..."
